The E-commerce Congress was one of the main such business events in Ukraine, with the participation of 1000 practitioners in the field, over 80 experts and their reports, 9 intensive information sessions, product innovation, master classes and presentations. E-CONGRESS, one of the key business events of the season, combined experience in e-commerce with new ideas and business approaches. The attendees had access to forecasts and live cases from e-commerce leaders, along with insights from 22 companies who participated in the exhibition.

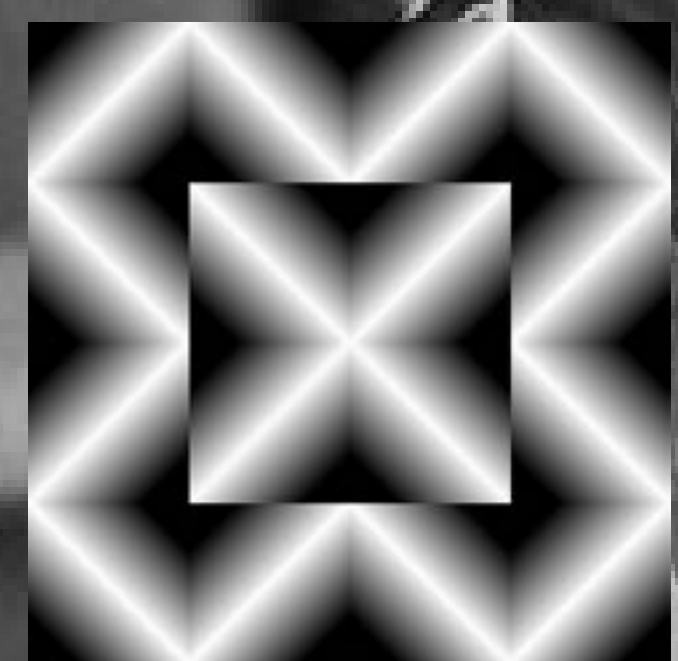

We have a track record of increasing sales by successfully planning and executing remarkable conferences which allow companies to expand their global network and secure new business. E-Congress has grown exponentially over the past 5 years since we started managing the event. We provided our client with time, money and resource savings. The client, E-Comex, entrusted us with delivering an outstanding conference and to take care of every detail. By hiring a professional events organiser they efficiently outsourced efforts in approaching and managing several different suppliers.

We organized an event in the OMNI Campus with Oleksiy Poroshenko as the main speaker. He shared his experience in Singapore with the Ukrainian graduates of foreign universities, namely, the London School of Economics and INSEAD. His speech addressed the role of a professional civil service in successful reforms.

“Knowledge is probably the only asset in the world that benefits and grows by means of exchange” - said Mr. Poroshenko.

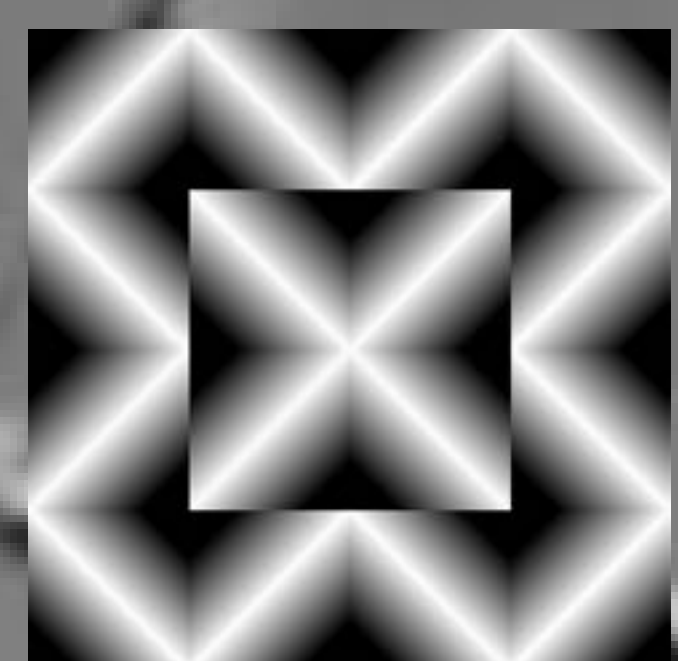

Qub Events is proud to have been part of such an important event.

e-Delivery Expo was the first professional event in Ukraine entirely dedicated to logistics for e-commerce, held in the important venue of NSC Olimpiysky. The event provided an opportunity to compare the services and pricing policies of logistics and service companies, as well as a chance to communicate with top officials. Most importantly, the attendees could learn about new opportunities for the development of their business.

“Largely due to the rampant development of logistics and service services, the Ukrainian e-commerce market has formed. Delivery service is the main link between e-commerce and consumers. We believe that it’s time to create a platform that will give all market players the chance to come together to talk about their products, systematize knowledge, share experience and develop strategic and tactical solutions. We hope that eDelivery Expo will become a new starting point in the development of the delivery industry for e-commerce”

Managing the organization of E-Commerce Award 2018 was a great challenge for us, aiming at creating an even more creative and innovative event compared to the previous years. We set the theme as “Past Vs Future”.

E-Commerce Award Ceremony has grown exponentially over the past 5 years thanks to the effective event planning strategy introduced by Qub Events. Strong long-term relationships with venues and vendors have allowed us to negotiate the best terms for the client and our commitment and creativity resulted in great feedback from the attendees.

In 2018, over 300 Ukrainian web projects have applied for the contest. The nominees were determined by the jury, and the winners were selected by customers through online voting (a total 15,000 votes).

The E-Commerce Awards is an independent professional award given to the best e-commerce retailers yearly since 2013.

One of our clients asked us to find a private beach in Kiev with a city view to host a special birthday party for their family and closest friends.

The perfect place turned out to be Riva Location on the Dnipro river, a new Yacht Club in Riviera RiverSide complex, with amazing views of the city of Kiev.

We planned an exciting event packed with activities and entertainment for the guests. They could enjoy boat trips, circus workshops, water activities or just relax near the water sampling delicious food and drinks. Later in the evening there was a lavish party with professional barmen and a spectacular fire artist.

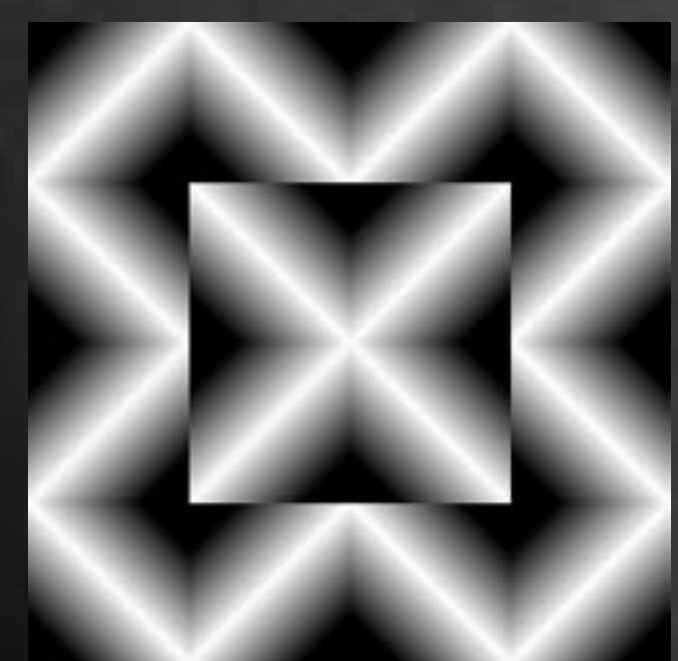

The guests also highly praised the food and succulent beach barbecues prepared by chefs from a 5* hotel for the occasion.

The top Ukrainian artist coming to perform in the British capital was a challenging and exciting task for us at Qub Events. We managed to find a perfect venue, matching the event's grand scale and importance - the Indigo at the O2 Arena, one of the top venues in the British capital. Hosting over 2000 people, we tailored more than 300 special effects and a unique stage setting for the show, as well as organizing the access and security system for the maximum comfort of the guests, avoiding the queues and starting the show right on time. Our team worked hard to give the guests a full-scale experience and we managed to create a show to remember.
